

THANKSGIVING DAY is just what the words imply. It is a day of Thanksgiving. In the 1600s Governor William Bradford of the little colony of Plymouth decreed that Dec. 13 be set aside as a day of prayer and feasting. In 1863 President Lincaln issued a proclamation setting aside the last Thursday of November for the observance. This Thanksgiving millions of

WASHINGTON -(NEA) - Your chances of surviving an all-out nuclear attack on the U.S. are a great deal better today than anyone dared hope a year ago.

The Soviet Union has fewer missiles by far than predicted. The effects of atomic raids have been figured more realistically. The U.S. has more "natural" shelters than had been calculated.

No sane person in the government is suggesting that an atomic and hydrogen bomb attack on the U.S. would not be a horrible and devastating blow

But civil defense and Pentagon officials do say that you can disregard stories that an all-out attack today would kill 180 million Americans, or 100 million or even 20 million

If all the Soviet bombers, missiles and missile-carrying submarines were thrown into wave after wave of mass attacks, the number of Americans killed would be less than twice the number that died last year from diseases and accidents - PROVIDED U.S. defenses stay on the alert and the U.S. population takes a few simple precautions.

The first Russian targets would of necessity be the big U.S. strategic air bases, the Atlas sites, the Polaris-submarine bases, certain aircraft carriers - all sites that would enable U.S. missiles their missiles and planes back to civil defense experts. out of commission.

Notre Dame May Forfeit Grid Game

WASHINGTON (AP) - There's a possibility Notre Dame will forfeit its controversial 17-13 football victory over Syracuse University.

The Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame, said in a television interview (CBS) Wednesday night:

"Everyone knows Notre Dame doesn't want to win a game if it really didn't. If the rules committee determines that we didn't, we'll act accordingly.

This was an apparent reference to the NCAA rules committee, which both schools have asked for a formal ruling. Bob Neyland, chairman of the NCAA committee, has said he believes both the Big 10 and Eastern College Athletic Conference have made proper rulings on the game officials'

Both conferences held in effect that game officials were wrong in awarding Notre Dame a play after the game ended. On that play Notre Dame's Joe Perkowski booted a 41-yard field goal to overcome Syracuse's 15-14 lead. But the two conferences also held that they had no authority to change the score.

Syracuse is a member of the ECAC and Notre Dame uses officials from the Big Ten, but is not a member of it.

BIGGER, BETTER WALL-A hastily thrown up wall stands in front of Berlin's famed Brandenburg Gate, as the Communists continue to extend and strengthen the barrier between East and West. Several thousand East German soldiers, police, militia and workers are fortifying the wall against the possibility of attack. Tank traps have been set up along the 25-mile border through the city. The wall itself is being deepened.

NEW YORK (AP)-Television. which has a penchant for showing old movies and remaking old films into one-shot dramas, also finds the Hollywood studios useful in developing "new" series out of

At the moment, five TV series have inherited the titles and are directly related to old motion pic ture properties.

Veteran show is "National Velvet." once a starring vehicle for a little girl named Elizabeth Taylor. "Bus Stop," which was first a play and then a movie, bears little resemblance to previous productions-in fact, the plot for the play and movie provided the basis for just a single

"Father of the Bride," new se ries which is encountering ratings troubles, once was a so-so comedy feature, and so was "Margie," the series about a teen-ager in the Most successful transition from theatre to living room screen has been made by "Dr. Kildare," but any resemblance between Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore, stars of the original movies, and Richard Chamberlain and Raymond Massey, today's Kildare and Gillespie, is purely co-inci dental.

In January, there will be an other series jumping fully-armed from the vaults of studios, "Room, for One More," which was a book before it was a movie.

Obviously, no one life or no one family can crowd into a few years series-they exhausted the rea life potentials of Eliot Ness after the first few episodes of "The

What, then, is the point of tak ing old movies and remaking them into a series and switchin things around until only the name is the same?

"That's easy," explaied a TV series producer who choses to be anonymous. "It is to save money and trouble. After all, if a studie owns a property and a namelike 'Margie' or 'Dr. Kildare,' can go ahead and do anything is likes with them and doesn't have to bother with negotiations, or buying rights or clearances."

Steve Allen has glamorous Italian star Sophia Loren, singing and clowning in a sketch, for a rare TV appearance next Wednesday ight on his ABC variety show. And Big Crosby has as guest star on his Dec. 11 special Dave King, the British variety star who two summers ago substituted for Perry Como so successfully that viewers still wonder why he hasn't been back.

SAFEWAY Superb Round Steak

Make about a quart of bread stuffing which calls for poultry seasoning (see your favorite cookbook). Spread stuffing over 2 lbs. round steak (use bottom, top, or full-cut round). Roll up meat and tie with heavy string. In hot shortening in heavy skillet, brown meat rolls on all sides. Place steak rolls in casserole and sprinkle lightly with onion salt and garlic salt. Add 1 cup hot water and cover tightly. Bake in 325-degree oven about

2 hours or until tender; baste frequently and turn occasionally. Make gravy with remaining liquid.

Deliciously different dishes are easy with Safeway's famous Superb Round Steak. Like the one shown here from an old recipe that's a real inspiration for a family-pleasing meal. Superb Round Steak can be enjoyed in a variety of ways because it's from the finest USDA Graded Choice beef ... always more tender and flavorful!

Thanksgiving Amid Perils

Thanksgiving Day in itself is something to be thankful for. It's a guiet, family day that centers about the traditional "groaning board." It's an unhectic, unhurried day (except for the women in the kitchen, perhaps), a day that can be enjoyed for itself alone.

Sometime, probably after we retreat from the scene of devastation wrought upon the turkey or the ham or what have you, we'll take a few moments to look back over the past year in a spirit of thankfulness.

We'll reflect on the good things that have come our way-to us personally, to our loved ones and to our fellow men at large. The disappointments, the frustrations, even the tragedies we may have known, will fade into the background as we relax in a sense of gratitude just for the mere fact of living.

But Thanksgiving is more than a once-ayear review or balance sheet of the previous 12 months. It's a collection of memories of many other similar holidays. It's the sum of all the Thanksgivings we have ever known.

Thinking of this, we realize that we are today building part of the memories that will color all the coming Thanksgivings, particularly those of our children.

It makes us pause to consider what kind of memories we are making for them, what

Perhaps more than ever this year, fear of what the future holds could cast a pall over the festivities. If we dwelt pessimistically on the state of the world, we could conclude that it is distinctly possible that none of us will be around to observe this holiday in

But this is far from the purpose of Thanksgiving and is not the spirit we would like to see imparted to the next generation.

For it was not so in the beginning. The first Thanksgiving, too, was held in perilous times. The future was not at all certain for those pioneers in a harsh wilderness, and there was no guarantee that they would sur-

Yet a spirit of hope and confilence so infused that gathering that it has reached down over the centuries to us. No sense of impending and inevitable doom should sit at America's Thanksgiving tables in 1961. There is concern for the future, of course, but along with that concern goes a determination to make sure there is a future, for us and for

One day we will look back on Thanksgiving Day, 1961, and remember it as one of the better ones-almost as happy as Thanksgiving

Dear Joe:

Yesterday we went out to Marineland with your brother Georgie and fed Bubbles the

I remember taking you there two years ago when Bubbles was much smaller. She has grown now and weighs 1,700 pounds. She also has a boy friend named Bimbo who is much bigger than she is and weighs 3,400 pounds but is not as smart as Bubbles. That's because Bimbo has been in Marineland a shorter time than Bubbles, not because girls are any smarter than boys. You can point that out to your sister if she says the opposite.

Bubbles and her boy friend Bimbo have a funny way of kissing. They get off at opposite ends of the pool and swim at each other at full speed and bounce their heads together. If you did anything like this with your brothers you would be knocked out, but whales have big pots of fat in their noses. So it doesn't hurt them.

The trainer let us pat Bubbles on her nose. It felt just like a rubber tire. She also reached out with her fin to shake hands and Georgie gave her a couple of shakes. She seems to like shaking hands just as much as someone running for Congress.

Captive Killer Whale

Marineland recently caught a killer whale. the first one ever captured. Killer whales are much smaller than ordinary whales and run in packs so they can gang up on the big blubber whales and kill them. Whales are very smart. A killer whale will get over the spout of a big whale so it can't come up for air and breathe. Then the other killer whales will attack the big whale and tear out its tongue. This is the tenderest part of the whale and the killer whales like to eat it. This also prevents the big whale from swallowing its food and eventually it dies.

This killer whale, the only one in captivity, is now in the big aquarium at Marineland with a lot of interesting fish and you may remember that the last time we were out here a diver went down and fed the fish. Now the diver can't go down because the killer whale might chew him up. So the fish

DENVER POST: Nowhere to Run.-A group of Americans set out on a long journey, from Long Island, N.Y., to the other end of the continent, seeking promise in a new land. much in the way that the old pioneers trekked across the plains. . .

There were some differences in this new migration, however. It involved about 30 people, many of them artists who had been working together in an art center near the middle of Long Island.

They were bound for Chico, Calif. (and still are as far as we know). They were not seeking gold or even land, but safety from atomic fallout.

They figured that Long Island was a very unsafe place, filled with airplane and other defense industry factories, and far too close to New York City for comfort.

So a committee was formed. It investigated and discovered from Washington sources that three areas in the United States were considered to be extremely safe from fallout problems: northern California, southern Oregon, and an area in Montana. The committee recommended and the group chose Chico as their new home. Bag and baggage they departed, selling their cumbersome possessions, to try their luck in the unknown.

Then, after the travelers had severed their ties, and had begun their trek, an enterprising reporter did a little checking on their decision.

He discovered that the Defense Department is about to build a new missile base just outside Chico, that a Strategic Air Command base is quite nearby.

In other words, as the reporter noted Chico. quite possibly, is a more likely target for destruction than many other places, in case of all-out war.

tice Earl Warren of the Supreme Court who told me about whales when I was with him in Norway last summer. His father was born in Norway which long has been the center of the whaling industry. The chief justice also used to be governor of California where he often visited Marineland

He told me that once Bubbles swallowed an inner tube and got quite sick. She thought it was a fish, but it wasn't and she couldn't digest the tire nor could she spit it out.

As you can imagine, it's very hard to take care of a sick whale. You can't put her to bed. You can't very well take her temperature. And you can't feel her wrist to get her pulse. And although Bubbles is a smart whale, she hasn't learned yet to stick out her tongue.

So Bubbles got sicker and sicker. Finally Governor Warren arranged for a special doctor to fly to California. He gave Bubbles a couple of gallons of castor oil and she got rid of the inner tube and got well.

Gang-Up Similarity The other night I went to hear President Kennedy speak. When I came out, there were several thousand people standing around the hall with placards calling President Kennedy names. This is what is called picketing. It is an American right to protest, and these pickets were protesting some of the things President Kennedy was saying about the Americans who don't seem to have confidence in their country and are preaching hate. Your uncle Joe Patterson for whom you are named and who used to be editor of the Chicago Tribune, was a forthright battler for the right to protest and picket, and he was also a battler against those who preach hate.

These preachers of hate have been ganging up on Chief Justice Warren in the same way that killer whales gang up on big whales. They are ganging up on him because he has the courage to stand up for the underdog in the United States and is calling the shots as he sees them even though his opinions may be unpopular. So some of the killer whales among people want to get rid of him.

Some of these same human killer whales also want to undermine President Kennedy, because he too has courage.

I'm not sure you'll understand all these things now, but you will when you get a little older. And you can ask your mother to explain what's been happening in France where you are now. France has been a great birthplace of democracy but recently the French army has been doing what no army has a right to do-trying to upset an elected

For the first time in many, many years in this country some American Army officers have been working behind the backs of their own commander-in-chief. They too are like killer whales. There aren't many of them vet, but there could be if the people of this country who are older than you and old enough to be alert don't wake up to the facts.

Two months before he died of cancer on June 10, 1960, he prepared a ten page document which was his legal will.

He must have had fun writing it. In his preface he wrote, "kids will be called kids, not issue and the will must not be cluttered up, with parties of the first part, per stripes, perpetuities, quasi-judicial, to wit, and a lot of other terms that I am sure are only used to confuse those for whose benefit it is writ-

God's One Commandment

I pause upon this day, O, God, to say
That as upward now my eyes I lift,
I'm glad that you take time to show the way That I might see each good and perfect gift; For when we listen there is peace within For only one commandment did you give, It shuts out hatred, prejudice and sin, That one commandment, God, by which to live, Ah, yes, the Bible tells us many things But there is but one word, God, just from you, One word for beggars, sages and for kings That tells us how to live and what to do, All life revolves around that little word And from it comes all things like faith and peace, Sharing, hope, sorrow, emotions stirred, Without it all good things in life would cease, It is the strength and comfort that we feel, It is the thing you give we must return To you and to our fellowmen, this you reveal In simple lessons, yet oft' hard to learn, Sometimes we slip, God, I know, and yet It seems so easy for you to forgive, You show us up, O, God, when we forget, And point that one commandment we must live; For in it all commandments are embraced, It is the thing by which man steers his course, No substitute can ever take its place For love, God, is the great eternal force I'm thankful for all blessings that are mine But lo, reflected in that one I see, In eyes and words and smiles there seems to shine

The 1962 wheat stabilization program, which was approved in a referendum by producers in August, requires a mandatory reduction of 10 per cent from acreage allotments established on the basis of the former minimum national allotment of 55 million acres. Provision is also made for up to an additional 30 per cent voluntary reduction with special provisions for small farms, permitting up to 10 acres reduction in line with the farm's wheat acreage history. Payments are made to producers who divert acreage under the program to an approved conserving use.

talk may turn into talk about her own. She may realize that she's been feeling lonely and defrauded herself-and face up to the fact that she wants to give to the baby the time she's been giving to customers in the diner.

Just as she has to wait until her baby has lost interest in sucking his thumb, you have to wait until she is ready to face the real cause of her anxiety.

I could be mistaken in my feeling that your daughter resents working. I've suggested that this secret resentment may be the problem because working mothers who resent their separation from children tend to see their behavior problems as accusing evidence of neglect. Indeed, they exaggerate the ill effects of their absence from home to justify their own resentment of it. This is one of their biggest stumbling blocks.

Children sense their feeling and begin to develop the very problems their mothers fear, not because the mother is absent, but because her presence when she is at home is so apologetic, uneasy and overanxious. But of course I can't assure you that this is your daughter's case.

I can only remind you that our feelings toward other people, including children, usually express our feelings about ourselves. Just as we believe we hate our boss when we really hate our failure to impress him, we will imagine we are worried over a baby's thumb-sucking when what actually worries us is the kind of mothering we are giving him.

To Veteran And Family

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) -To a casual observer, particularly one with less than a million bucks, this fashionable Southern California resort might seem like snooty town blessed with everything but a heart.

But not to the recently destitute Appleby family, now celebrating Thanksgiving in this picturesque community fabled for millionaires and mountains, seacoast and sol-

In what seemed at first an unhappy act of fate, residents of Santa Barbara got a chance to open not only their wallets, but their hearts as well, to Henry Appleby, his wife Lottie and their seven children.

Here's how it happened:

Appleby, 33, an infantry veteran cided recently to move his family from Oregon's Willamette Valley sheet metal worker.

had never seen the Pacific Ocean, I'd like to pay it back. the Applebys traveled down the California coast. Then, on Monday, their makeshift campertrailer truck caught fire. The blaze destroyed their food, clothing and bedding-and Appleby' wallet containing about $180, all the money they possessed.

Before the fire was out, Navy chief Leroy Stecker, a Navy recruiter here, took the family to town. As the Applebys were delivered to Salvation Army headquarters, the California Highway Patrol quickly spread word of the family's plight.

"What really amazed me," said

OLD BLANK JOE-"Josef Stalin? Never heard of him." The next generation of Russians may well say this, as the de-Stalinization program launched by Nikita Khrushchev goes on apace. At one time, so "beloved" was Stalin by his people that scores of cities, streets, parks, factories, dams, geographical features, etc., were named after him. Now, even his corpse has been hidden and the most famous city name of all, Stalingrad, has been wiped from the history books. It is now "Volgograd."
